An old Polish hero, aged seventythree years, died in this city last Tuesthy. His name was Edward Vernezobre.
In 1830 and '31 he was one of the leaders of the Polish revolution against the Russian Government, and, fighting brayely, received eight wounds in the celebraled battle of Ostrolenka, in August, 1831, and was taken to the military hospital at Warsaw, where he remained for more than a year. He was afterward sentenced to death as one of the canspirators, but being assisted by Gen.
Witt, at that time Governor of Poland, he went to Switzerland, and, abandoning his title of Baron, learned the trade of locksmith. He came here in 1849 with his iamily, where he worked as finisher in several foundries, until six years ago, when, by a fall in Haven's foundry, he broke his hip bone, since which time he has been unable to leave his room until death ended his sufferings. He was a descendant of the Huguenots, a Masen and a member of the Arbeiterbund of Cincinnati. He leaves no fortune, but an honorable name.

The Election Excitement.

The latest reports this morning from Columbus stating that Allen is elected have caused an intense excitement on the streets.

Fruit CropWalue.

Fruit Cropwaise.

F. R. Elliot, a writer on horticulture, has been collecting certain data in regard to fruit culture, and gives the total market value of the crop of the entire country at $57,000,000. New York leads all the States in amount with $7,000,000. California's figures are largest in proportion to population, being $6,000,000, this sum probably including the yield from vineyards. The total sum for the New England States is put at $6,000,000, the individual States not being itemized. In commenting on these figures the San Francisco Bulletin, which already claims that California is the leading wheat growing State, thinks that it will speedly stand in the front as the greatest producer of fruit, and holds that, so far from being overdone there, the fruit business is in its infancy.—Rural World.

Mr. T. P. Nisbett writes to the Detroit News that his wife several times underwent the operation known as moxa, under the charge of Dr. McBride of that city. Of the operation he says: "Dr. McBride took the moxa out of the furnace, the head a pure golden red, and with surprising dexterity applied it to the eighteen lines indicated on the shoulder and arm. At each stroke a faint hiss broke the slience, but the patient did not wince. The firsh did not burn. The sensations experienced were inexpressible, but not horrible. The operation was soon over. Some few days after the operation was repeated, it proved wholly successful.

One difference between a great poet's use of natural symbols, and another, not so great, poet's use of them, we feel to be this. The latter looks at an effect in nature and says to himself: I must remember this, in order to use it as a figure of so and so. On the other hand, Dante had a thought, and his thought reminded him of some effect in nature which he must recount, and which thus became a symbol. Of course, I do not say that the use of the note-book is impossible; but I should think it would take extraordinary genius to overcome its tendency.—Scribner for October. Scribner for October.

There is an Illinois conductor who deserves the most conspicuous place in the next new Subbath-school books. "He was so kind to an c-l lady when she got off the train at Dewitt, and rendered her so much assistance in getting her baggage to the depot, that a passenger asked him if the old lady was his mother. 'Oh, no,' was the reply, 'but she is somebody's mother.'

HEALTHFULNESS.

A distinguished Physician says: "After a careful examination of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, I am satisfied that it is a whole-some and valuable preparation, with which bread and other articles may be prepared suitable to a weakened and disordered, digestion. I have introduced it among my pattents, and have yet to learn of the first instance where a convalence training the first instance where a convalence to patient could not indulge in warm biscuits made with it, and feel the better for it. Sour milk and saleratus will not, I hope, be longer used to poison the stomach and corrupt the blood." Dr. Price's Special Fig. voring Extracts, as well as his Cream Baking Powder, have gained their popularity and extensive sale from their perfect purity and unvarying quality.
